

RUN SLOW SIGNS ORDERED BY BOROUGH FOR CORNERS

Speed of Automobiles Will be Lawfully Regulated

TOWN READY FOR PAVING

Connections Will Be Made Soon Between Charleroi and North Charleroi

The borough council at an adjourned meeting last night instructed Clerk Ira L. Nickeson to order 50 "Danger, Run Slow" signs to be hung at street corners, for the regulation of automobilists in Charleroi. Chief of Police C. W. Albright was instructed to have his men notify automobile drivers to exercise more care in turning corners, and to regulate their speed more carefully in the borough.

Action was taken to the effect that the borough will furnish surveys and excavate for the laying of permanent sidewalks, where all property holders along a block petitioned. The street commissioner was instructed to notify owners to repair bad sidewalks in various parts of town. The clerk was instructed to notify the Pittsburgh Railways company that the borough is about ready to pave between McKaer avenue and the borough line at the northern end of town, and the engineer was authorized to prepare plans and specifications for the same.

The engineer presented blue prints of the present and proposed grade of Shady avenue, between Second and Fifth streets and he was notified to set stakes to show the grade.

The clerk was authorized to instruct the Pennsylvania Railroad company to provide toilet accommodations at the local station. Burgess George W. Risbaek was instructed to rigidly enforce the fire limit ordinance.

The tax duplicates made out by the borough clerk are to be presented to Tax Collector J. W. Mathias, and he is instructed to collect all taxes promptly, and at the first of March to present a full list of exonerations. The president of council, and the secretary were authorized to sign warrants for the collection of the said taxes.

SAID MONONGAHELA MEN WILL NOT PAY TAX ASSESSMENTS

It is stated that Ex-Councilman Frank Yohe, Postmaster Dewitt C. Fackin on James Graysinger and Clyde Mason have been arrested at Monongahela for refusing to pay their dog taxes. Graysinger was released because he proved that he did not own a dog, but Yohe, Parkinson and Mason were fined $1 and costs, which all paid except Yohe, who will take an appeal to court. Tuesday was the last day to pay the dog tax and there are a number of owners who have not yet paid it. The crusade against dog owners who haven't paid the tax will be continued.

Now Use Electricity

The Fayette County Gas company, which furnishes gas to several towns of Fayette county, including Uniontown and Connellsville has raised the price to 30 cents per thousand cubic feet and caused considerable disturbance. As a result of the increase many have taken to the use of electricity.

Fire Burns Boat at Belle Vernon

Damage Done by Flames to Property of the River Combine

A boat belonging to the River Coal company was destroyed by fire this morning at Belle Vernon, entailing a loss of about $800 to the company. The origin of the fire is unknown. The flames broke out at about 3 o'clock in the morning, and the boat, which it is said was rather an old affair, was quickly burned.

ANOTHER FERRY FOR BROWNSVILLE

Three Towns Company Asking for Charter From Governor Stuart

Competition promises to be keen among ferrymen at Brownsville after the old Brownsville bridge is torn down. Already the Monongahela Ferry company has been chartered by Governor E. S. Stuart and notice for an application from a second company has been presented. Governor Stuart will act on the matter August 8. The new applicant is the Three Towns Ferry company, the petitioners being Frank Devers, James B. Herbertson and W. H. Herbertson.

Both the companies plan to operate a ferry between West Brownsville and South Brownsville. In Brownsville there is no landing because of the railroad operations.

MONESSEN POLICEMAN CHARGED WITH TALKING SASSY TO HIS CHIEF

On charges of sleeping on duty, drinking while on duty, going out of bounds to make arrests and being saucy to the burgess, Night Patrolman K. C. Wheatley, of Monessen has been suspended by Burgess Daniel Reamer. The police committee of the council informed Reamer that he was overstepping his power and insisted that Wheatley be replaced on his beat. This was done by the burgess but he put an Italian over him to catch him.

Wheatley was given a hearing before the police committee on Wednesday. He was exonerated. The burgess was censured and Wheatley given two weeks vacation on pay.

Birthday Remembered

Miss Margaret O'Connor was tendered a surprise at the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. John O'Connor, Prospect avenue, last night, by a number of friends the occasion being her birthday. The evening was pleasantly spent with various diversions and refreshments were served. Miss O'Connor received a number of beautiful and useful presents and from friends at a distance a shower of post cards. Out of town guests were present from Monessen, Donora, California and Roscoe.

SUM OFFERED NOT ENOUGH

Belle Vernon Bridge Company Will Take Appeal Shortly

The sum of $50,000 will not be accepted by the Belle Vernon bridge company for the purchase of their bridge spanning the Monongahela river at Belle Vernon. Melvaine, Vance and Gibson of Monongahela, the attorneys for the company, are now at work preparing an appeal to be presented to the courts in the near future. The bridge was recently taken over by Fayette and Washington counties and damages of $50,000 were awarded the bridge company by a board of viewers.

The figure asked by the bridge company will hardly be less than $125,000. It is supposed the structure cost $80,000 when built in 1894, and while the structural work is in good condition, a new floor and other repairs are badly needed. The approaches will have to be replaced. It is not known in which county the appeal will be taken, but it is likely that it will be in Washington county, where attorneys for the company are members of the bar.

George W. Theiss of Pittsburgh is the secretary-treasurer and general manager of the company.

FAMOUS CREMATORY WILL BECOME ONLY MATTER OF HISTORY

The famous LeMoyné crematory at Washington, the county seat, the first built in the United States, has been closed for general use. This announcement was made in connection with the receipt of a request from the International Crematory Society to have a representative of the LeMoyné family present at an international convention to be held in Brussels, Belgium, the coming fall. The request has not been complied with as Julius LeMoyné, the present owner of the crematory, states that it has been decided not to receive any more bodies there for cremation. The LeMoyné crematory was built by the late Dr. Francis Julius LeMoyné in 1876, being the first in the United States. The first body was cremated on December 6, 1876, when the remains of Baron de Palm, a German nobleman of New York, were incinerated. Nearly a score of cremations have been conducted, the last one having been about five years ago. For about 15 years only the bodies of those who reside in Washington county had been received. Neighboring towns and cities have since the one there was built, provided more modern crematories and Mr. LeMoyné on account of the expense of keeping this one in order, has decided to receive no more bodies.

Dr. F. J. LeMoyné, who built the crematory, was one of the most distinguished scholars and thinkers of this day. He was a noted abolitionist, and in 1841, 1844 and 1847, was a candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania on an Abolition party ticket. He was a noted philanthropist. He founded the Washington Free Library in 1869, with an original endowment of $10,000. He also endowed two professorships at Washington and Jefferson College with a donation of about $25,000. Dr. LeMoyné died October 16, 1879, and his body was incinerated in the crematory, which stands on a hill just south of Washington. His ashes were buried in the plot surrounding the crematory building.

SOREHEADS HAVE PARTY

"Independents" Choose Ticket to Perform Stunts at Election Time

With William H. Berry at the head the new independent party to be known as the Keystone party was organized at Philadelphia yesterday. The entire ticket follows: Governor, William H. Berry; Lieutenant Governor, D. Clarence Giboney of Philadelphia; State Treasurer, C. D. Scully of Pittsburgh, and Secretary of Internal Affairs, J. A. Casey of Wilkes-Barre. One of the main planks in the platform is local option. Dr. Charles Dillinger of Pittsburgh who headed the Western Pennsylvania delegation took the stand against Berry and when the result of the vote became known Dr. Dillinger made the public announcement that the naming of Berry killed any chances for victory that the new party may have had.

Dr. Dillinger also opposed the local option plank and a compromise was made, the plank being toned down to read as follows:

"The sale of intoxicating liquor is peculiarly a matter affecting each community. It is in accordance with true democracy and the right of local self-government that citizens be granted the opportunity to control the business of liquor selling in accordance with the will of the majority of each locality."

The convention also paid a flattering tribute to Governor Stuart and his administration.

METHODISTS GO DOWN TO DEFEAT BY 10-6 SCORE

The First Presbyterians blasted the hopes of the Methodists last night by winning from them by the score of 10 to 6. Hits figured largely in the contest, the Presbyterians getting nine and the Methodists 10. It was a rip-roaring, slam bang affair from beginning to end. Both aggregations scored three in the first inning the Presbyterians on five hits and an error, and the M. E.'s on three bingles, couple of stolen bases and a life. The boys from the Fifth street denominations brought three men around the race track the next on two hits a base on balls, a wild heave, and a hit by pitcher. With two hits a run was scored by the Methodists in the third inning, and one in the fifth on an error and two bingles. The Presbyterians on two hits two bases on balls, a man hit by pitcher scored four runs in the fifth one of them being a force. Thereupon Bege went in to catch and was relieved on the mound by Perce Pollock. Scoring by the Presbyterians was stopped. On three cracks each for a single base, one was scored in the seventh inning. NEW CASTLE BUSINESS MAN NOMINATED FOR CONGRESS

Steals Wife, Then Comes for Clothes Monessen Man Makes Member of Race Bring Back His Spouse

After stealing the wife of Peter Russian of Monessen, George Spanik went back to get her clothes and was arrested by Constable John Watts on oath of Peter Russian, for larceny. It is alleged that Spanik took Russian's wife to Pittsburgh and had been keeping her there. Although he works at Monessen he goes to see her every night. Russian said that he would take his wife back if she would come and Spanik went to Pittsburgh with an officer to show where she is staying. Spanik is a foreigner and cannot read or write English.

MATTHEWS TRULY A SELF-MADE MAN

Congressional Candidate Capable of Filling Office With Credit

Regarding Charles Matthews of New Castle, who was nominated for Congress at the conference at Pittsburgh yesterday, to succeed Congressman J. K. Tener as nominee in the Twenty-fourth district, the Washington Observer says:

Charles Matthews, the Republican nominee for Congress in the Twenty-fourth district, was born in New Castle in 1866. "He was a poor boy and at the age of 14 went to work in the rolling mills at his home town. At 18 he started to night school. He had attended the public schools on before going into the mills and in his evenings later took a course in night school, which fitted him for the work in which he has been successful in his later years. For one year Mr. Matthews was editor of the Courant-Guardian, and the next year was nominated for sheriff on the Republican ticket and elected by a plurality of 4,000, one of the largest ever given a Republican candidate in Lawrence county. This was in 1898. He served his term of three years and was one of the most popular officials in the county.

After serving as sheriff Matthews became connected with the Lawrence Savings and Trust company and a few years ago went to the National bank of Lawrence county of which he is now vice president and a member of the board of directors. He is really the active head of the bank and is well known in business and financial circles in this part of the State and stands well in New Castle and Lawrence county.

He is independent in politics, though a party man and his friends say he can carry his own county even in this restless political year by 2,000 majority. His friends say it was his popularity at home and the fact that he would have a practically united party him in his own county were what brought about his nomination.

Charles Matthews Chosen on Ninth Ballot

BEAVER SUPPORTS WILSON
Washington and Lawrence. Conferees Combine on Matthews

Charles Matthews of New Castle was chosen Republican nominee to succeed John K. Tener as Representative in Congress from the Twenty-fourth district at a conference yesterday afternoon at the Schenley Hotel in Pittsburgh. Mr. Matthews is a banker and was formerly an iron worker. His previous experience in politics consists chiefly of a term as sheriff of Lawrence county.

The nomination was made in the ninth ballot, and came as a surprise to everybody, including the candidate himself, it is said. The conference was held at the Hotel Schenley, and the meeting was private. It was called to order by W. Harry Baker, secretary of the State Republican Republican State committee, who explained the law and the rules and withdrew. The conference was composed of 13 delegates, six from Washington, four from Beaver and three from Lawrence. Eight votes were necessary to make a selection. C. H. Young of Lawrence county was made chairman of the conference and T. P. Morrison of Washington county and J. B. McClure of Beaver county were tellers.

When the conference took a recess after its first session it was announced that the four Beaver delegates had voted for Judge Wilson, the six Washington county delegates voted two for C. E. Carothers of Washington, two for former Senator John F. Byrde of Canonsburg and two for Colonel James E. Barnett of Pittsburgh, while the three Lawrence delegates had voted twice for Mr. Matthews and twice for former Lieutenant Governor William M. Brown.

The second session took two ballots with the result remaining the same except that Mr. Carothers was dropped by the Washington delegation and two votes were cast for State Representative Charles Bentley. The second recess was rather long and the third session of the conference had been going on but a short time when Mr. Matthews was sent for receiving notice that he had been nominated. He was warmly congratulated. Mr. Matthews then said:

"I hardly expected this but I am none the less gratified. It will be satisfactory to all Lawrence county Republicans and I have no doubt that the county will give at least 3,500 majority for the Republican ticket."

Mr. Matthews had received all the votes of Lawrence and Washington counties on the ninth ballot and the Beaver delegates had united in making the nomination unanimous. The voting had otherwise remained unchanged except that on the seventh ballot Matthews got one Washington county vote and on the eighth ballot two. Most of the delegates left for their homes last night.

RUN SLOW SIGNS ORDERED BY BOROUGH FOR CORNERS

Speed of Automobiles Will be Lawfully Regulated

TOWN READY FOR PAVING

Connections Will Be Made Soon Between Charleroi and North Charleroi

The borough council at an adjourned meeting last night instructed Clerk Ira L. Nickerson to order 50 "Danger, Run Slow" signs to be hung at street corners, for the regulation of automobilists in Charleroi. Chief of Police C. W. Albright was instructed to have his men notify automobile drivers to exercise more care in turning corners, and to regulate their speed more carefully in the borough.

Action was taken to the effect that the borough will furnish surveys and excavate for the laying of permanent sidewalks, where all property holders along a block petitioned. The street commissioner was instructed to notify owners to repair bad sidewalks in various parts of town. The clerk was instructed to notify the Pittsburgh Railways company that the borough is about ready to pave between McKean avenue and the borough line at the northern end of town, and the engineer was authorized to prepare plans and specifications for the same.

The engineer presented blue prints of the present and proposed grade of Shady avenue, between Second and Fifth streets and he was notified to set stakes to show the grade. The clerk was authorized to instruct the Pennsylvania Railroad company to provide toilet accommodations at the local station. Burgess George W. FAMOUS CREMATORY WILL BECOME ONLY MATTER OF HISTORY

The famous LeMoyné crematory at Washington, the county seat, the first built in the United States, has been closed for general use. This announcement was made in connection with the receipt of a request from the International Crematory Society to have a representative of the LeMoyné family present at an international convention to be held in Brussels, Belgium, the coming fall. The request has not been complied with as Julius LeMoyné, the present owner of the crematory, states that it has been decided not to receive any more bodies there for cremation. The LeMoyné crematory was built by the late Dr. Francis Julius LeMoyné in 1876, being the first in the United States. The first body was cremated on December 6, 1876, when the remains of Baron de Palm, a German nobleman of New York, were incinerated. Nearly a score of cremations have been conducted, the last one having been about five years ago. For about 15 years only the bodies of those who reside in Washington county had been received. Neighboring towns and cities have since the one there was built, provided more modern crematories and Mr. LeMoyné on account of the expense of keeping this one in order, has decided to receive no more bodies.

Dr. F. J. LeMoyné, who built the crematory, was one of the most distinguished scholars and thinkers of this day. He was a noted abolitionist, and in 1841, 1844 and 1847, was a candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania on an Abolition party ticket. He was a noted philanthropist. Charles Matthews, the Republican nominee for Congress in the Twenty-fourth district, was born in New Castle in 1866. He was a poor boy and at the age of 14 went to work in the rolling mills at his home town. At 18 he started to night school. He had attended the public schools on before going into the mills and in his evenings later took a course in night school, which fitted him for the work in which he has been successful in his later years. For one year Mr. Matthews was editor of the Courant-Guardian, and the next year was nominated for sheriff on the Republican ticket and elected by a plurality of 4,000, one of the largest ever given a Republican candidate in Lawrence county. This was in 1898. He served his term of three years and was one of the most popular officials in the county.

After serving as sheriff Matthews became connected with the Lawrence Savings and Trust company and a few years ago went to the National bank of Lawrence county of which he is now vice president and a member of the board of directors. He is really the active head of the bank and is well known in business and financial circles in this part of the State and stands well in New Castle and Lawrence county.

He is independent in politics, though a party man and his friends say he can carry his own county even in this restless political year by 2,000 majority. His friends say it was his popularity at home and the fact that he would have a practically united party him in his own county were what brought about his nomination.

Charles Matthews Chosen on Ninth Ballot

BEAVER SUPPORTS WILSON

Washington and Lawrence Conferees Combine on Matthews

Charles Matthews of New Castle was chosen Republican nominee to succeed John K. Tener as Representative in Congress from the Twenty-fourth district at a conference yesterday afternoon at the Schenley Hotel in Pittsburgh. Mr. Matthews is a banker and was formerly an iron worker. His previous experience in politics consists chiefly of a term as sheriff of Lawrence county.

The nomination was made in the ninth ballot, and came as a surprise to everybody, including the candidate himself, it is said. The conference was held at the Hotel Schenley, and the meeting was private. It was called to order by W. Harry Baker, secretary of the State Republican Republican State committee, who explained the law and the rules and withdrew. The conference was composed of 13 delegates, six from Washington, four from Beaver and three from Lawrence. Eight votes were necessary to make a selection. C. H. Young of Lawrence county was made chairman of the conference and T. P. Morrison of Washington county and J. B. McClure of Beaver county were tellers.

When the conference took a recess after its first session it was announced that the four Beaver delegates had voted for Judge Wilson, the six Washington county delegates voted two for C. E. Carothers of Washington, two for former Senator John F. Byrde of Canonsburg and two for Colonel James E. Barnett of Pittsburgh, while the three Lawrence delegates had voted twice for Mr. Matthews and twice for former Lieutenant Governor William M. Brown.

The second session took two ballots with the result remaining the same except that Mr. Carothers was dropped by the Washington delegation and two votes were cast for State Representative Charles Bentley. The second recess was rather long and the third session of the conference had been going on but a short time when Mr. Matthews was sent for receiving notice that he had been nominated. He was warmly congratulated. Mr. Matthews then said:

"I hardly expected this but I am none the less gratified. It will be satisfactory to all Lawrence county Republicans and I have no doubt that the county will give at least 3,500 majority for the Republican ticket." Mr. Matthews had received all the votes of Lawrence and Washington counties on the ninth ballot and the Beaver delegates had united in making the nomination unanimous. The voting had otherwise remained unchanged except that on the seventh ballot Matthews got one Washington county vote and on the eighth ballot two. Most of the delegates left for their homes last night.

A Wise Nomination

Both from a party standpoint and the well being of the district, the selection of Charles Matthews by the conference held in Pittsburgh yesterday to succeed Congressman J. K. Tener as the Republican nominee of the Twenty-fourth district was a wise move. Mr. Matthews is a successful business man of large affairs, whose integrity, character and standing are unquestioned. His previous business experience has made him widely conversant with the conditions and needs of the district, and he is thoroughly qualified to take up and carry on the important work of river improvement so successfully inaugurated by his predecessor, John K. Tener. He is worthy of the support of every voter in the district who has the welfare of the government policy of the canalization of the Ohio at heart.

The nomination of Mr. Matthews will also do much to allay any factional feeling that might be engendered in the district. An ardent Republican with independent tendencies, Mr. Matthews will command the support of the independent element of Lawrence county, that has hitherto held somewhat aloof from the regular organization. Like Mr. Tener the nominee has never been a politician in the accepted sense of the word, and is therefore free from all factions and entangling alliances. His nomination also refutes the charge that Washington county, by reason of its larger vote, will always monopolize the Congressional representative. While it is perhaps a disappointment in a personal way to Washington county to lose the representative the spirit of fairness will force us to concede that the strong should not always monopolize the honors because they have the power so to do. As a representative should impartially look after the well being of his entire district, and not discriminate in favor of any particular locality, the people are fortunate in getting a candidate of the calibre of Mr. Matthews. His nomination was a wise move, and as his election is a foregone conclusion, the people of the whole district will profit by his selection.

Berry and Local Option

By the nomination of W. H. Berry for Governor at the rump convention at Philadelphia yesterday, the Keystone party, for that is the name under which it is legally known, came into being. The nomination of Mr. Berry, whose strong Prohibition tendencies are well known, made possible the adoption of a local option plank in the platform, which was vigorously opposed by the Allegheny county delegates in particular.

The local option plank, however, is regarded as a compromise, and its language indicates that it will not be pushed to the front as an issue except in localities in which there is no pronounced opposition. It is not a county option measure, and it briefly recites that in the interest of home rule and the true spirit of democracy the citizens should be permitted to "control the business of liquor selling in accordance with the will of the majority of each locality." The convention paid a tribute to the administration of Governor Stuart, and then adopted a platform which vaguely hints at a political trust in the State, knocks both the Republican and Democratic parties, and specifically recites some economic policies which in some form or other have been a part of party platforms for the past generation.

It is evident, however, that the record of Mr. Berry as a former Democratic State Treasurer and his personality are what the new party expects to make its issue, and that local option will not figure extensively in the campaign.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

"Has anybody here seen Kelly?" No, but we would enjoy a private conference with the man who first asked that question.

In the past 23 years, 2,500,000 British subjects have emigrated to the United States. Can England boast that many American emigrants to their soil?

Nondescript. That word fits our idea of that Washington crowd of would-bes.

In Albany, N. Y., a special decision had to be rendered to permit a one-eyed man to drive an automobile. Wonder if it would require the same for a cross-eyed man?

What is a Democrat? asks the Buffalo News. While we are unable to afford a complete definition we are sure it is something that has nothing to do with the Washington, Pa., bunch of curiosities.

Indianapolis is to have an ordinance forbidding the use of any other warning contrivance on an automobile than the ordinary "honk." It has been moved thereto, no doubt, by the invention of a nondescript noise maker which emits a sound somewhat resembling a hippopotamus with a spring cold in his head. When this thing coughs timid persons almost have a fit. — Rochester Herald.

As another example to prove the man who said "everything comes to him who waits is a liar," might be suggested Hon. William J. Bryan, who can possibly define Democracy with a greater preciseness than any man living.

Charleroi might with propriety have cleaner streets.

The Independents were slightly indisposed for fear of their convention being stampeded. Who do they think would go to the trouble of stampeding such a thing?

Love seems the only thing which causes attempts at suicide any more, so it must be inferred that Cupid has sharpened his darts since the time of Aristotle.

PLANS COMPLETED FOR CAMPMEETING AT BENTLEYVILLE

Everything is in readiness for the annual session of the Union Holiness association, to be held at Bentleyville from August 12th to the 22nd inclusive. Many ministers have been secured, and the meetings this year promise to eclipse all others. Rev. C. E. English of Amherst, O., will have charge of the services and Mrs. H. Rebecca Bell Griffith, formerly of Centerville, will have charge of the young people's department.

An air of activity is already manifest at the camp ground. It is only about two weeks until the meetings are scheduled to begin and already many families are occupying cottages on the ground and each week sees the number rapidly increasing. Much work is also being done at present, in putting the grounds in shape for this big yearly event.

WAS THE FIRST

ENGINEER EVER

EMPLOYED HERE

W. L. Eicher and C. N. Baron, Pittsburgh surveyors, have been here the past few days doing private surveying work in mines and today completed their work. Mr. Eicher was the first borough engineer of Charleroi, having located here nearly 20 years ago, soon after the laying out of the town. He did some of the supplemental work in plotting out the lots, but moved away some time ago. He refused to state the object of the survey.

RUN SLOW SIGNS ORDERED BY BOROUGH FOR CORNERS

Speed of Automobiles Will be Lawfully Regulated

TOWN READY FOR PAVING

Connections Will Be Made Soon Between Charleroi and North Charleroi

The borough council at an adjourned meeting last night instructed Clerk Ira L. Nickeson to order 50 "Danger, Run Slow" signs to be hung at street corners, for the regulation of automobilists in Charleroi. Chief of Police C. W. Albright was instructed to have his men notify automobile drivers to exercise more care in turning corners, and to regulate their speed more carefully in the borough.

Action was taken to the effect that the borough will furnish surveys and excavate for the laying of permanent sidewalks, where all property holders long a block petitioned. The street commissioner was instructed to notify owners to repair bad sidewalks in various parts of town. The clerk was instructed to notify the Pittsburgh railways company that the borough is about ready to pave between McFaez avenue and the borough line at the northern end of town, and the engineer was authorized to prepare plans and specifications for the same.

The engineer presented blue prints of the present and proposed grade of Brady avenue, between Second and Fifth streets and he was notified to set stakes to show the grade.

The clerk was authorized to instruct the Pennsylvania Railroad company to provide toilet accommodations at the local station. Burgess George V. Risbeck was instructed to rigidly enforce the fire limit ordinance.

The tax duplicates made out by the borough clerk are to be presented to Tax Collector J. W. Mathias, and he was instructed to collect all taxes promptly, and at the first of March to present a full list of exonerations. The residents of council, and the secretary were authorized to sign warrants or the collection of the said taxes.

PAID MONONGAHELA MEN WILL NOT PAY TAX ASSESSMENTS

It is stated that Ex-Councilman Frank Yobe, Postmaster Dewitt C. McKinnon, James Graysinger and Clyde Mason have been arrested at Monongahela for refusing to pay their dog taxes. Graysinger was released because he proved that he is not own a dog, but Yobe, Parkerson and Mason were fined $1 and costs, which all paid except Yobe, who will take an appeal to court.

Now Use Electricity

The Fayette County Gas company, which furnishes gas to several towns in Fayette county, including Uniontown and Connellsville has raised the price to 30 cents per thousand cubic feet and caused considerable disturbance. As a result of the increase many have taken to the use of electricity.

Fire Burns Boat at Belle Vernon

Damage Done by Flames to Property of the River Combine

A boat belonging to the River Coal company was destroyed by fire this morning at Belle Vernon, entailing a loss of about $200 to the company. The origin of the fire is unknown. The flames broke out at about 3 o'clock in the morning, and the boat, which it is said was rather an old affair, was quickly burned.

ANOTHER FERRY FOR BROWNSVILLE

Three Towns Company Asking for Charter From Governor Stuart

Competition promises to be keen among ferrymen at Brownsville after the old Brownsville bridge is torn down. Already the Monongahela Ferry company has been chartered by Governor E. S. Stuart and notice for an application from a second company has been presented. Governor Stuart will act on the matter August 8. The new applicant is the Three Towns Ferry company, the petitioners being Frank Devers, James B. Herbertson and W. H. Herbertson.

Both the companies plan to operate a ferry between West Brownsville and South Brownsville. In Brownsville there is no landing because of the railroad operations.

MONESSEN POLICEMAN CHARGED WITH TALKING SASSY TO HIS CHIEF

On charges of sleeping on duty, drinking while on duty, going out of bounds to make arrests and being saucy to the burgess, Night Patrolman K. C. Wheatley, of Monessen has been suspended by Burgess Daniel Reamer. The police committee of the council informed Reamer that he was overstepping his power and insisted that Wheatley be replaced on his beat. This was done by the burgess but he put an Italian over him to catch him.

Wheatley was given a hearing before the police committee on Wednesday. He was exonerated. The burgess was censured and Wheatley given two weeks vacation on pay.

Birthday Remembered

Miss Margaret O'Connor was tendered a surprise at the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. John O'Connor, Prospect avenue, last night, by a number of friends the occasion being her birthday. The evening was pleasantly spent with various diversions and refreshments were served. Miss O'Connor received a number of beautiful and useful presents and from friends at a distance a shower of post cards. Out of town guests were present from Monessen, Donora, California and Roscoe.

SUM OFFERED NOT ENOUGH

Belle Vernon Bridge Company Will Take Appeal Shortly

The sum of $50,000 will not be accepted by the Belle Vernon bridge company for the purchase of their bridge spanning the Monongahela river at Belle Vernon. McIlvaine, Vance and Gibson of Monongahela, the attorneys for the company, are now at work preparing an appeal to be presented to the courts in the near future. The bridge was recently taken over by Fayette and Washington counties and damages of $50,000 were awarded the bridge company by a board of viewers.

The figure asked by the bridge company will hardly be less than $125,000. It is supposed the structure cost $80,000 when built in 1894, and while the structural work is in good condition, a new floor and other repairs are badly needed. The approaches will have to be replaced. It is not known in which county the appeal will be taken, but it is likely that it will be in Washington county, where attorneys for the company are members of the bar.

George W. Theiss of Pittsburgh is the secretary-treasurer and general manager of the company.

FAMOUS CREMATORY WILL BECOME ONLY MATTER OF HISTORY

The famous LeMoyné crematory at Washington, the county seat, the first built in the United States, has been closed for general use. This announcement was made in connection with the receipt of a request from the International Crematory Society to have a representative of the LeMoyné family present at an international convention to be held in Brussels, Belgium, the coming fall. The request has not been complied with as Julius LeMoyné, the present owner of the crematory, states that it has been decided not to receive any more bodies there for cremation. The LeMoyné crematory was built by the late Dr. Francis Julius LeMoyné in 1876, being the first in the United States. The first body was cremated on December 6, 1876, when the remains of Baron de Palm, a German nobleman of New York, were incinerated. Nearly a score of cremations have been conducted, the last one having been about five years ago. For about 15 years only the bodies of those who reside in Washington county had been received. Neighboring towns and cities have since the one there was built, provided more modern crematories and Mr. LeMoyné on account of the expense of keeping this one in order, has decided to receive no more bodies.

Dr. F. J. LeMoyné, who built the crematory, was one of the most distinguished scholars and thinkers of this day. He was a noted abolitionist, and in 1841, 1844 and 1847, was a candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania on an Abolition party ticket. He was a noted philanthropist. He founded the Washington Free Library in 1869, with an original endowment of $10,000. He also endowed two professorships at Washington and Jefferson College with a donation of about $25,000. Dr. LeMoyné died October 16, 1879, and his body was incinerated in the crematory, which stands on a hill just south of Washington. His ashes were buried in the plot surrounding the crematory building.

SOREHEADS HAVE PARTY

"Independents" Choose Ticket to Perform Stunts at Election Time

With William H. Berry at the head the new independent party to be known as the Keystone party was organized at Philadelphia yesterday. The entire ticket follows: Governor, William H. Berry; Lieutenant Governor, D. Clarence Gibboney of Philadelphia; State Treasurer, J. D. Scully of Pittsburgh; and Secretary of Internal Affairs, J. A. Casey of Wilkes-Barre. One of the main planks in the platform is local option. Dr. Charles Dillinger of Pittsburgh who headed the Western Pennsylvania delegation took the stand against Berry and when the result of the vote became known Dr. Dillinger made the public announcement that the naming of Berry killed any chances for victory that the new party may have had.

Dr. Dillinger also opposed the local option plank and a compromise was made, the plank being toned down to read as follows:

"The sale of intoxicating liquor is peculiarly a matter affecting each community. It is in accordance with true democracy and the right of local self-government that citizens be granted the opportunity to control the business of liquor selling in accordance with the will of the majority of each locality."

The convention also paid a flattering tribute to Governor Stuart and his administration.

METHODISTS GO DOWN TO DEFEAT BY 10-6 SCORE

The First Presbyterians blasted the hopes of the Methodists last night by winning from them by the score of 10 to 6. Hits figured largely in the contest, the Presbyterians getting nine and the Methodists 10. It was a rip-roaring, slam bang affair from beginning to end. Both aggregations scored three in the first inning the Presbyterians on five hits and an error, and the M. E.'s on three bingles, couple of stolen bases and a life. The boys from the Fifth street denominations brought three men around the race track the next on two hits a base on balls, a wild throw, and a hit by pitcher. With two hits a run was scored by the Methodists in the third inning, and one in the fifth on an error and two bingles. The Presbyterians on two hits two bases on balls, a man hit by pitcher scored four runs in the fifth one of them being a force. Thereupon Bege went in to catch and was relieved on the mound by Perce Pollock. Scoring by the Presbyterians was stopped. On three cracks each for a single base, one was scored in the seventh inning.

Monessen Man Makes Member of Race Bring Back His Spouse

After stealing the wife of Peter Russian of Monessen, George Spanik went back to get her clothes and was arrested by Constable John Watts on oath of Peter Russian, for larceny. It is alleged that Spanik took Russian's wife to Pittsburgh and had been keeping her there. Although he works at Monessen he goes to see her every night. Russian said that he would take his wife back if she would come and Spanik went to Pittsburgh with an officer to show where she is staying. Spanik is a foreigner and cannot read or write English.

MATTHEWS TRULY A SELF-MADE MAN

Congressional Candidate Capable of Filling Office With Credit

Regarding Charles Matthews of New Castle, who was nominated for Congress at the conference at Pittsburgh yesterday, to succeed Congressman J. K. Tener as nominee in the Twenty-fourth district, the Washington Observer says:

Charles Matthews, the Republican nominee for Congress in the Twenty-fourth district, was born in New Castle in 1866. He was a poor boy and at the age of 14 went to work in the rolling mills at his home town. At 18 he started to night school. He had attended the public schools on before going into the mills and in his evenings later took a course in night school, which fitted him for the work in which he has been successful in his later years. For one year Mr. Matthews was editor of the Courant-Guardian, and the next year was nominated for sheriff on the Republican ticket and elected by a plurality of 4,000, one of the largest ever given a Republican candidate in Lawrence county. This was in 1898. He served his term of three years and was one of the most popular officials in the county.

After serving as sheriff Matthews became connected with the Lawrence Savings and Trust company and a few years ago went to the National bank of Lawrence county of which he is now vice president and a member of the board of directors. He is really the active head of the bank and is well known in business and financial circles in this part of the State and stands well in New Castle and Lawrence county.

He is independent in politics, though a party man and his friends say he can carry his own county even in this restless political year by 2,000 majority. His friends say it was his popularity at home and the fact that he would have a practically united party him in his own county were what brought about his nomination.

Charles Matthews Chosen on Ninth Ballot

BEAVER SUPPORTS WILSON

Washington and Lawrence. Conferees Combine on Matthews

Charles Matthews of New Castle was chosen Republican nominee to succeed John K. Tener as Representative in Congress from the Twenty-fourth district at a conference yesterday afternoon at the Schenley Hotel in Pittsburgh. Mr. Matthews is a banker and was formerly an iron worker. His previous experience in politics consists chiefly of a term as sheriff of Lawrence county.

The nomination was made in the ninth ballot, and came as a surprise to everybody, including the candidate himself, it is said. The conference was held at the Hotel Schenley, and the meeting was private. It was called to order by W. Harry Baker, secretary of the State Republican Republican State committee, who explained the law and the rules and withdrew. The conference was composed of 13 delegates, six from Washington, four from Beaver and three from Lawrence. Eight votes were necessary to make a selection. C. H. Young of Lawrence county was made chairman of the conference and T. P. Morrison of Washington county and J. B. McClure of Beaver county were tellers.

When the conference took a recess after its first session it was announced that the four Beaver delegates had voted for Judge Wilson, the six Washington county delegates voted two for C. E. Carothers of Washington, two for former Senator John F. Blyden of Canonsburg and two for Colonel James E. Barnett of Pittsburgh, while the three Lawrence delegates had voted twice for Mr. Matthews and twice for former Lieutenant Governor William M. Brown.

The second session took two ballots with the result remaining the same except that Mr. Carothers was dropped by the Washington delegation and two votes were cast for State Representative Charles Bentley. The second recess was rather long and the third session of the conference had been going on but a short time when Mr. Matthews was sent for receiving notice that he had been nominated. He was warmly congratulated. Mr. Matthews then said:

"I hardly expected this but I am none the less gratified. It will be satisfactory to all Lawrence county Republicans and I have no doubt that the county will give at least 3,500 majority for the Republican ticket." Mr. Matthews had received all the votes of Lawrence and Washington counties on the ninth ballot and the Beaver delegates had united in making the nomination unanimous. The voting had otherwise remained unchanged except that on the seventh ballot Matthews got one Washington county vote and on the eighth ballot two. Most of the delegates left for their homes last night.

The sum of $50,000 will not be accepted by the Belle Vernon bridge company for the purchase of their bridge spanning the Monongahela river at Belle Vernon. McIlvaine, Vance and Gibson of Monongahela, the attorneys for the company, are now at work preparing an appeal to be presented to the courts in the near future. The bridge was recently taken over by Fayette and Washington counties and damages of $50,000 were awarded the bridge company by a board of viewers.

FAMOUS CREMATORY WILL BECOME ONLY MATTER OF HISTORY

The famous LeMoyné crematory at Washington, the county seat, the first built in the United States, has been closed for general use. This announcement was made in connection with the receipt of a request from the International Crematory Society to have a representative of the LeMoyné family present at an international convention to be held in Brussels, Belgium, the coming fall. The request has not been complied with as Julius LeMoyné, the present owner of the crematory, states that it has been decided not to receive any more bodies there for cremation. The LeMoyné crematory was built by the late Dr. Francis Julius LeMoyné in 1876, being the first in the United States. The first body was cremated on December 6, 1876, when the remains of Baron de Palm, a German nobleman of New York, were incinerated. Nearly a score of cremations have been conducted, the last one having been about five years ago. For about 15 years only the bodies of those who reside in Washington county had been received. Neighboring towns and cities have since the one there was built, provided more modern crematories and Mr. LeMoyné on account of the expense of keeping this one in order, has decided to receive no more bodies.

Dr. F. J. LeMoyné, who built the crematory, was one of the most distinguished scholars and thinkers of this day. He was a noted abolitionist, and in 1841, 1844 and 1847, was a candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania on an Abolition party ticket. He was a noted philanthropist. His ashes were buried in the plot surrounding the crematory building.

His Spouse

After stealing the wife of Peter Russian of Monessen, George Spanik went back to get her clothes and was arrested by Constable John Watts on oath of Peter Russian, for larceny. It is alleged that Spanik took Russian's wife to Pittsburgh and had been keeping her there. Although he works at Monessen he goes to see her every night. Russian said that he would take his wife back if she would come and Spanik went to Pittsburgh with an officer to show where she is staying. Spanik is a foreigner and cannot read or write English.

With Credit

Regarding Charles Matthews of New Castle, who was nominated for Congress at the conference at Pittsburgh yesterday, to succeed Congressman J. K. Tener as nominee in the Twenty-fourth district, the Washington Observer says:

Charles Matthews, the Republican nominee for Congress in the Twenty-fourth district, was born in New Castle in 1866. He was a poor boy and at the age of 14 went to work in the rolling mills at his home town. At 18 he started to night school. He had attended the public schools on before going into the mills and in his evenings later took a course in night school, which fitted him for the work in which he has been successful in his later years. For one year Mr. Matthews was editor of the Courant-Guardian, and the next year was nominated for sheriff on the Republican ticket and elected by a plurality of 4,000, one of the largest ever given a Republican candidate in Lawrence county. This was in 1898. He served his term of three years and was one of the most popular officials in the county.

After serving as sheriff Matthews became connected with the Lawrence Savings and Trust company and a few years ago went to the National bank of Lawrence county of which he is now vice president and a member of the board of directors. He is really the active head of the bank and is well known in business and financial circles in this part of the State and stands well in New Castle and Lawrence county.

He is independent in politics, though a party man and his friends say he can carry his own county even in this restless political year by 2,000 majority. His friends say it was his popularity at home and the fact that he would have a practically united party him in his own county were what brought about his nomination.

Charles Matthews Chosen on Ninth
Ballot

BEAVER SUPPORTS WILSON

Washington and Lawrence
Conferees Combine on Matthews

Charles Matthews of New Castle was chosen Republican nominee to succeed John K. Tener as Representative in Congress from the Twenty-fourth district at a conference yesterday afternoon at the Schenley Hotel in Pittsburgh. Mr. Matthews is a banker and was formerly an iron worker. His previous experience in politics consists chiefly of a term as sheriff of Lawrence county.

The nomination was made in the ninth ballot, and came as a surprise to everybody, including the candidate himself, it is said. The conference was held at the Hotel Schenley, and the meeting was private. It was called to order by W. Harry Baker, secretary of the State Republican Republican State committee, who explained the law and the rules and withdrew. The conference was composed of 13 delegates, six from Washington, four from Beaver and three from Lawrence. Eight votes were necessary to make a selection. C. H. Young of Lawrence county was made chairman of the conference and T. P. Morrison of Washington county and J. B. McClure of Beaver county were tellers.

When the conference took a recess after its first session it was announced that the four Beaver delegates had voted for Judge Wilson, the six Washington county delegates voted two for C. E. Carothers of Washington, two for former Senator John F. Byrde of Canonsburg and two for Colonel James E. Barnett of Pittsburgh, while the three Lawrence delegates had voted twice for Mr. Matthews and twice for former Lieutenant Governor William M. Brown.

The second session took two ballots with the result remaining the same except that Mr. Carothers was dropped by the Washington delegation and two votes were cast for State Representative Charles Bentley. The second recess was rather long and the third session of the conference had been going on but a short time when Mr. Matthews was sent for receiving notice that he had been nominated. He was warmly congratulated. Mr. Matthews then said:

"I hardly expected this but I am none the less gratified. It will be satisfactory to all Lawrence county Republicans and I have no doubt that the county will give at least 8,500 majority for the Republican ticket."

Mr. Matthews had received all the votes of Lawrence and Washington counties on the ninth ballot and the Beaver delegates had united in making the nomination unanimous. The voting had otherwise remained unchanged except that on the seventh ballot Matthews got one Washington county vote and on the eighth ballot two. Most of the delegates left for their homes last night.

A Wise Nomination

Both from a party standpoint and the well being of the district, the selection of Charles Matthews by the conference held in Pittsburg yesterday to succeed Congressman J. K. Tener as the Republican nominee of the Twenty-fourth district was a wise move. Mr. Matthews is a successful business man of large affairs, whose integrity, character and standing are unquestioned. His previous business experience has made him widely conversant with the conditions and needs of the district, and he is thoroughly qualified to take up and carry on the important work of river improvement so successfully inaugurated by his predecessor, John K. Tener. He is worthy of the support of every voter in the district who has the welfare of the government policy of the canalization of the Ohio at heart.

The nomination of Mr. Matthews will also do much to allay any factional feeling that might be engendered in the district. An ardent Republican with independent tendencies, Mr. Matthews will command the support of the independent element of Lawrence county, that has hitherto held somewhat aloof from the regular organization. Like Mr. Tener the nominee has never been a politician the accepted sense of the word, and is therefore free from all factions and entangling alliances. His nomination also refutes the charge that Washington county, by reason of its larger vote, will always monopolize the Congressional representative. While it is perhaps a disappointment in a personal way to Washington county to lose the representative the spirit of fairness will force us to concede that the strong should not always monopolize the honors because they have the power so to do. As a representative should impartially look after the well being of his entire district, and not discriminate in favor of any particular locality, the people are fortunate in getting a candidate of the calibre of Mr. Matthews. His nomination was a wise move, and as his election is a foregone conclusion, the people of the whole district will profit by his selection.

Berry and Local Option

By the nomination of W. H. Berry for Governor at the rump convention at Philadelphia yesterday, the Keystone party, for that is the name under which it is legally known, came into being. The nomination of Mr. Berry, whose strong Prohibition tendencies are well known, made possible the adoption of a local option plank in the platform, which was vigorously opposed by the Allegheny county delegates in particular.

The local option plank, however, is regarded as a compromise, and the language indicates that it will not be pushed to the front as an issue except in localities in which there is no pronounced opposition. It is not a county option measure, and it briefly recites that in the interest of home rule and the true spirit of democracy the citizens should be permitted to "control the business of liquor selling in accordance with the will of the majority of each locality." The convention paid a tribute to the administration of Governor Stuart, and then adopted a platform which vaguely hints at a political trust in the State, knocks both the Republican and Democratic parties, and specifically recites some economic policies which in some form or other have been a part of party platforms for the past generation. It is evident, however, that the record of Mr. Berry as a former Democratic State Treasurer and his personality are what the new party expects to make its issue, and that local option will not figure extensively in the campaign.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

"Has anybody here seen Kelly?" No, but we would enjoy a private conference with the man who first asked that question.

In the past 23 years, 2,500,000 British subjects have emigrated to the United States. Can England boast that many American emigrants to their soil?

Nondescript. That word fits our idea of that Washington crowd of would-bes.

In Albany, N. Y., a special decision had to be rendered to permit a one-eyed man to drive an automobile. Wonder if it would require the same for a cross-eyed man?

What is a Democrat? asks the Buffalo News. While we are unable to afford a complete definition we are sure it is something that has nothing to do with the Washington Pa. bunch of curiosities.

Indianapolis is to have an ordinance forbidding the use of any other warning contrivance on an automobile than the ordinary "honk." It has been moved thereto, no doubt, by the invention of a nondescript noise maker which emits a sound somewhat resembling a hippopotamus with a spring cold in his head. When this thing coughs timid persons almost have a fit.—Rochester Herald.

As another example to prove the man who said "everything comes to him who waits" is a liar, might be suggested Hon. William J. Bryan, who can possibly define Democracy with a greater preciseness than any man living.

Charleroi might with propriety have cleaner streets.

The Independents were slightly indisposed for fear of their convention being stamped. Who do they think would go to the trouble of stamping such a thing?

Love seems the only thing which causes attempts at suicide any more, so it must be inferred that Cupid has sharpened his darts since the time of Aristotle.

PLANS COMPLETED FOR CAMPMEETING AT BENTLEYVILLE

Everything is in readiness for the annual session of the Union Holiness association, to be held at Bentleyville from August 12th to the 22nd inclusive. Many ministers have been secured, and the meetings this year promise to eclipse all others. Rev. C. E. English of Amherst, O., will have charge of the services and Mrs. H. Rebecca Bell Griffith, formerly of Centerville, will have charge of the young people's department.

An air of activity is already manifest at the camp ground. It is only about two weeks until the meetings are scheduled to begin and already many families are occupying cottages on the ground and each week sees the number rapidly increasing. Much work is also being done at present, in putting the grounds in shape for this big yearly event.

WAS THE FIRST ENGINEER EVER EMPLOYED HERE

W. L. Eicher and C. N. Baron, Pittsburg surveyors, have been here the past few days doing private surveying work in mines and today completed their work. Mr. Eicher was the first borough engineer of Charleroi, having located here nearly 20 years ago, soon after the laying out of the town. He did some of the supplemental work in plotting out the lots, but moved away some time ago. He refused to state the object of the survey.
